Strange coincidence:

While going through thousands of words of copy on the war and digging into a mass of paper on my desk, what would I pick up from underneath the pile but a beautifully printed "Legionnaire's War Credo" . . . I don't know where it came from or how it got mixed up with the war copy on my desk . . . but it was there by strange coincidence . . . and I think it's worth reprinting here and now . . . here it is:

"I will do all I can to demonstrate my allegiance to the Flag and to the Republic for which it stands.

"I will harbor no thought, perform no action, utter no words, that will create doubt about the country I love, the United States of America.

"I will do all that I can to bring victory to the United States of America and her allies.

"I will keep ever in mind the basic necessity for bringing about the overthrow of every sworn enemy of my country.

"I will be guided by reason, rather than by emotion, in the daily effort to make right the master of might.

"I will do my utmost to inspire confidence in the leaders of our war effort.

"I will, so far as it lies within my power, conduct my own war efforts as if I were, in fact, wearing the uniform of my country.

"I will resist any temptation to hamper my country's progress in this war because of any desire for private profit or personal gain.

"I will be ever alert as a guardian of my country's richest heritage—the American heritage of freedom and justice."

That is the credo of the men who 25 years ago fought, bled and died for the same cause and on the same blood-soaked ground of Europe where other Americans are fighting today . . . not many Legionnaires can take up arms now as they did then . . . but they are doing their part behind the lines.

Some of the finest sweet corn I have ever seen was left in my car parked in front of the Record-Herald office by V. F. (Chief) Crawford, who operates a large farm on the Prairie Road.

Chief had read that little yarn in this column about me being unable to find some good corn in two or three local food stores recently, and evidently knew I was hungry for some corn fresh from the farm; so he acted accordingly. If the ears left by Chief are fair samples of what he grows, he certainly is hitting his stride as an honest-to-goodness dirt farmer.

Thanks, Chief, I see where I am going to have buttered grains of corn spread over my face clear to my ears, eating that delicious corn from the cob.

Two or three farm owners have called my attention to the fact that some unknown persons, evidently residents of Washington C. H., have for sometime been dumping their garbage along the roadside at various places near the city.

In one instance a farmer several miles outside of the city found the contents of a garbage can dumped at the roadside along his farm a short distance from his home.

It is pointed out that dumping garbage along the highway or on farms, is a violation of law, punishable by a stiff fine.

"I hope these garbage dumpers will stop and think a minute before they dump any more garbage and run the risk of being caught at it," said one irate farmer.

YANKS IN DIEPPE RAID
TO TRAIN U. S. RANGERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The American Rangers who fought with the Canadians, British Commandos and fighting French in yesterday's spectacular raid on the Dieppe area of France will teach their slashing rough-and-tumble tactics to still more American fighting men.

Reds Taking Initiative on Four Key Fronts and Hold Stalingrad Defense

DETAILS ARE NOT GIVEN

Nazis Cross Elbow on Don River But Force Is Wiped Out by Russians

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Red Army has taken the initiative in battles developing on four key central Russian fronts along the 400 miles from Bryansk to Lake Ilmen while holding doggedly before Stalingrad and in the Caucasus, battlefield dispatches reported today.

Centers of the Russian attack were listed as the Bryansk front, 210 miles southwest of Moscow; the salient 130 miles west of Moscow in the Vyazma area; the Kalinin-Rzhev salient, 130 miles northwest of the capital, and the Lake Ilmen front south of Leninograd.

This was the first specific mention of Red Army offensives on these fronts in Russian dispatches, although German communiques for days have told of desperate resistance there by Nazi forces hurled into the defensive by strong Soviet attacks.

No complete details of the central campaigns were given, but the Russians said they had taken a heavy toll of garrison forces left to man the central and northern battleline while the Nazis massed their greatest strength for the Don Bend and Caucasus offensive.

In the south, where the Germans concentrated ever-reinforced troop and air strength, the Russians said some Axis troops had forced a crossing in the elbow of the Don in their drive upon Stalingrad, but were "completely wiped out" on the east bank.

While Red Army men on the steps between the Don and the Volga thus were reported to have accounted for Nazi bridgeheads, Russians withdrew again in the battle of the western Caucasus and the Kuban city of Krasnodar was left in German hands.

The German crossing of the Don elbow, one objective of the campaign launched by Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock from the Kursk-Kharkov front June 28, was reported made southeast of Kletska.

The communiqué report that Soviet soldiers had killed or wounded all who made the thrust implied that they had regained full mastery of the east bank of the Don in the defense of Stalingrad.

Southwest of Stalingrad, a sea-saw battle was reported in progress for a railway station on the Caucasus line from Kotelnikovskii 95 miles away.

Here is a view of the channel port of Dieppe in Occupied France where British Commandos are reported to have staged their biggest raid of the war. JAP WARSHIPS
HIT BY BOMBERS

Assault Made To Protect Yanks on Solomons—One Australian Cruiser Hit

GENERAL MAC ARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Allied bombers struck a new blow in support of United States Marines fighting to dislodge the Japs from the Solomon Islands by blasting an enemy warship almost 400 miles north of the battle area, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The communiqué disclosing the attack also announced loss of the 10,000-ton Australian cruiser Canberra in the first stages of the Solomon Islands battle.

Australian authorities listed casualties aboard the Canberra—wrecked 816 men—as 84 dead and 109 wounded.

The announcement concerning the aerial assault on Jap naval units yesterday said merely that Allied heavy bombers had attacked enemy warships near Faisi—a small island near Bougainville at the northern tip of the Solomons—with unknown results and that all the raiders had returned safely.

The announcement was of particular interest, however, for it constituted the first official mention of operations against Jap naval units in the Solomon Island area since the battle in which the Canberra was lost almost two weeks ago.

In addition to the attack on the enemy naval units, Allied bombers made a low altitude raid yesterday on a Jap-occupied town in Timor, far to the northwest of Australia.

Battle Over Farm Prices
Is Brewing in Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(AP)—A new battle over farm prices appeared in the making today following an appeal by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard for an amendment of the price control law to permit lower ceilings on agricultural products.

Wickard, reversing his previous position, urged farmers to forego a provision in the price law prohibiting ceilings of less than 110 percent of parity. (Parity prices are designed to give farm products purchasing power equivalent to that of a base period, usually 1909-14.)

The secretary's new stand was challenged quickly by Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) of the House Agriculture committee, who said: "Friends of the farmers will oppose any such change in the price law. Mr. Wickard and Mr. Henderson (Price Administrator Leon Henderson) would do

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC IS SWEEPING CHINA

Thousands Have Died in Jap-Occupied Province

CHUNKING, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Chinese Central News reported today that between 3,000 and 4,000 persons had died of cholera in Jap-occupied Teng-yueh, in western Yunnan Province, where Jap forces penetrated southwestward China after their conquest of Burma.

Meanwhile, in eastern China, Chinese dispatches said, the military position had been stabilized further by Chinese recapture of Wenchow and the widening to 60 miles of the gap between Jap forces seeking to strike from east and west toward each other along the Kiangsi railway.

telephonic information which got through to Vichy from the scene of yesterday's battle.

Rough civilian estimates placed the number of Allied raiders at about 10,000, mostly Canadians, landed in 300 to 400 small boats and tank scows on the fortified beaches while 13 British warships hurled shells into the German coastal defenses.

French nurses and firemen dealt with casualties and damage while the battle raged, said the reports reaching here.

The landing boats came in a huge wave along some 12½ miles of the coast. Beach parties of Canadians, American Rangers, De Gaulle French and British fought through barbed wire entanglements on shore and drove the Germans back into the low part of Dieppe some distance away, the reports continued.

The raiders forced an entry into the city and occupied part of the lower quarter while the tanks, held back by anti-tank barriers which there was no time to destroy, aided by pouring cannon fire into the German ranks.

The city's population was reported calm and orderly while the raiders and the Germans fought in the streets.

First offhand estimates said about 30 civilians were killed.

The Dieppe reports said the Allied troops withdrew about 3:30 P. M.

Maintaining a rear-guard fire, they reached the beach head which had been held since the landing.

Then with a shout they left together aboard the motor scows which had brought them.

French firemen still were spraying water on burning buildings, while overhead the sky was full of dogfights among hundreds of RAF and German planes, the RAF attacking and the Germans defending the German bombers which were aiming at the flotilla.

Spice of Life in Time of War

Ten-year-old Boy Gets Results from Letter To President Roosevelt

DETROIT, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Ten-year-old Stuart Falk's postal card to President Roosevelt, envying a dog's life, got results. "Dear F. D. R.," the boy wrote, "I would like to be a mascot in the U. S. Marines. Our country is at war and I think dogs are not the only mascots. Mother laughs at this. I am only 10 years old. I want to be a mascot because our country is at war."

Stuart addressed his letter simply to "F. D. R., the capitol."

But the address was adequate, for an automobile load of Marine officers rolled up to Stuart's door yesterday—Capt. Charles Popp said, on orders from the commander-in-chief—and explained to the boy's mother that he could be a "mascot" at recruiting headquarters, with a uniform and everything.

It's Not Against the Law for Girl To Kiss Soldier Good Night

MACON, Ga., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The good night kiss of a soldier and his date is not disorderly conduct in Macon, ruled Recorder George M. Nottingham, a World War One veteran. An 18-year-old Macon girl and her 22-year-old Army Air Corps soldier date were charged with disorderly conduct by the girl's landlady who observed the couple kiss good-night after returning from a movie.

"If I'm guilty of being disorderly, then every man in Uncle Sam's Army belongs in jail," the young soldier told reporters as he waited to be called by the court. "And if every girl who kisses a soldier-sweetheart good night is going to be locked up, this is going to be a mighty dull war."

After hearing the evidence, Judge Nottingham smiled and then ordered "case dismissed."

CHANNEL COAST OF NAZI-EUROPE
IS GIVEN TEST

Hitler Had Said Forts Were Impregnable . . . But Lie Pinned on Propaganda

Last of Wounded Raiders Back in England—Others Weary But Jubilant

LONDON, Aug. 20.—(AP)—New assaults on Hitler's Europe, mighty attacks to make ruined Dieppe a mere sample of what full-blown invasion will be, were predicted today with the shock troops of four nations barely ashore again after the fiercest smash yet made against the Nazis' gun-studded coast.

Power-driven barges and other vessels arrived along the home coast throughout the night bringing the tired troops back. The last wounded Commandos were brought ashore during the morning, while squadrons of Spitfires and Hurricanes kept up their droning patrols overhead.

That Dieppe, once a bastion of German anti-aircraft defense and a rallying port for Nazi submarines, lay flaming and shell-torn was of secondary interest to the British.

What mattered was that assault forces—United States Rangers, Canadian, British and Fighting French Commandos—had stormed that coast and achieved every goal in a nine-hour battle engineered with such precision that it wound up within six minutes of schedule.

What mattered was that the Germans had been dealt a jolting blow where they had boasted they were invulnerable, that the Allies had massed fighting men and tanks and ferried them ashore at a strong-point of the Nazi defenses under cover of perhaps the greatest aerial umbrella in history.

The strength in manpower and air-naval might sent against Dieppe still is an Allied secret but the British announced in advance that only a Commando raid was intended.

Only the Germans, apparently to sugarcoat the bad news at home, pretended to believe that this was the actual start of a second front.

Both sides suffered heavily. The British disclosed today that 91 enemy planes definitely were destroyed in addition to some 100 others counted as probably shot down or damaged.

The RAF lost 98 planes but these were the only losses out of probably 1,000 aircraft in action on the Allied side. Thirty of the RAF pilots shot down are known to be safe.

All of 24 United States Army Air Force Flying Fortresses which pounded the big Nazi air base at Abbeville returned, with only a few bearing scars and one man slightly wounded.

But many of the Commandos, whose bulk apparently was supplied by Canadians, came back with wounds, the majority minor. The Americans were all volunteers from the Ranger battalion and were believed to have been relatively few in number.

Although ambulances and hospital trains carried some men from the waterfront, the floor of a former dance hall soon was filled with wounded. Many of the others stepped ashore from their power-driven barges elated and singing.

Allied military leaders said that if investigation bears out the first indications of success, Nazis along the coastline of western Europe might be pounded by more heavy attacks.

Each assault, they said, probably will seek to eliminate a focal point of German defense—like Dieppe—in preparation for the day when they cross the channel to stay.

These experts discounted the importance of having destroyed a radio-location base at Dieppe and the demolition of coastal defenses.

COLLECT SIXTY TONS OF METAL IN RURAL AREA

Owners Urged To Have All Scrap Material Ready For Trucks

Salvage men working under direction of the War Production Board, have so far collected approximately 120,000 pounds of metal from farms in Fayette County, and are still turning in steel and iron at the rate of several tons each day.

The work is to continue until every farm in Fayette County has been visited and metal and rubber collected to aid in the war program.

Farmers and their families generally are co-operating in a patriotic manner to help the movement along for these vital materials, and they are requested to have their metal collected so that when the trucks crews reach the scene they will not be delayed in helping in a long search for scattered metals.

Each day the pile of metal on the southeast corner of the Fairgrounds is growing, and old farm machinery and equipment form most of the scrap being collected.

Some of the metal was cast aside a quarter of a century ago, and has been "cluttering up" farm premises since that time.

Fred O. Cline is in charge of the operations in Fayette County, and Floyd Verian is assisting.

The men working on the U. S. salvage trucks are: Manford LeMaster, Dennis LeMaster, Elmer Kelley, W. S. Garlinger, Cal Beller, Charles A. Beadwell, John N. Shackelford, Fred Wood, Albert Wood, Lee Graham, Alfred H. Creamer, James Penwell, Jr., Charles Sexton, Charles D. Hidy.

ARMY JOB TAKEN BY BERNARD FULTON

With D. P. & L. for Years; Now Goes To Denver

Bernard Fulton, formerly of Washington C. H. and Dayton, has accepted a position with the Army Engineers at Denver, Colo., where he has been for the past month.

Fulton had been assistant manager of the Xenia District of the Dayton Power and Light Co., and prior to that was with the company for a number of years in Washington C. H. where he was supervisor of the electrical division.

Mrs. Fulton and their two daughters, Anita Jean and Bernadine, are to leave Dayton on Friday, to make their home in Denver. They have been visiting with Mrs. Fulton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell of the Lewis Road, this week.

MRS. TITIA H. HIDY DIES IN WILMINGTON

Funeral Services To Be Held There Saturday

Mrs. Titia Holly Hidy, 70, who has many friends and distant relatives in and around Washington C. H., although she never lived here, died at 4 o'clock Thursday morning in a Wilmington rest home following ten days of critical illness. She had been in failing health since last February, however.

Her first husband, Martin Holly, died in 1930 and her second husband, Elmer Hidy, to whom she was married in 1939, died last February. A sister, Mrs. Sarah Lytle, lives at New Burlington. She also leaves three step-daughters: Mrs. Marie Scott of Rice; Mrs. Lena Armintrout of Bellefontaine and Miss Grace Hidy of New York City.

Funeral services will be held at the Lukens-Reynolds Funeral Home in Wilmington at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and interment will be in the Sugar Grove Cemetery there.

The Sierra Madre mountain range has 28 volcanos.

Mainly About People

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Early moved Thursday from 114 Oak Street to Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens are moving from Bloomingburg to Springfield on Thursday.

Hall Wilson underwent a tonsilectomy at the office of Dr. J. H. Persinger on Thursday morning.

Miss Betty Cook is in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, where she underwent an appendectomy on Wednesday.

Mrs. R. N. Ricketts, of Delaware, who underwent an appendectomy in the Jane Case Hospital in that place, is making rapid recovery.

Mrs. Carl Murphy (Maxine Pope) underwent a major operation in Grant Hospital, Columbus on Monday. Her condition is said to be "as well as could be expected."

Members of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church today were congratulating Mrs. Noah Baughn on her 85th birthday. She is one of the oldest members of the church and one of its most faithful attendants.

Mr. Luther M. Thornberry, of Jeffersonville, is in Good Samaritan Hospital, Dayton, where he is receiving treatment for severe burns received when a gasoline can exploded. He is making satisfactory recovery.

TRUCKS AND BUS IN BAD MIX-UP

Passengers and Others in Unusual Accident Not Injured

A Greyhound bus, driven by Haskell Thompson, this city, an Albers truck and a Wilson truck figured in a three-way accident on the Columbus Highway a mile and a half south of Madison Mills, presumably when a boy on a bicycle caused Albers truck to slow down suddenly, and a second Albers truck to swing around the first one into the path of the bus.

The Albers trucks were headed north, the Greyhound bus, and Wilson truck and an automobile were headed toward this city when the accident occurred.

It seems that the Albers truck which was following the other, swung out into the highway to prevent ramming the first truck when it stopped or slowed down suddenly. In order to prevent crashing head-long into the bus, which was heavily laden with passengers, none of whom were injured, the truck swung entirely across the road into a ditch at the west side of the road.

Thompson, driver of the bus, jammed on his brakes and swung to the left, passing behind the first northbound truck, and the Wilson truck which was following the bus, crashed into the rear of the bus, causing considerable damage to the bus and wrecking the truck. Thompson's good work at the wheel was praised.

So far as learned the driver of the Wilson truck was the only one injured and he only slightly. No report of the wreck was made to the Sheriff's office.

BODY RECOVERED

1. Ample proof that the British Navy and the RAF still rule the English Channel and the air above it.
 2. Invaluable lessons in army-air cooperation, in battle tactics and in landing methods.
 3. Prospects of establishing a permanent bridgehead for landing an invasion army now can be assessed.
 4. The real strength of German land and air defenses in western Europe now probably is known to the Allied high command.

COLLECTION OF SCRAP METAL IS MOVING RAPIDLY

Thirty-two Tons Obtained From Farms Here During Past Week

During the past week the four salvage trucks working in the collection of metal in rural Fayette County, brought in 32 tons of steel and iron and some rubber scrap and the work is continuing this week, adding to the steadily growing pile on the southeast corner of the Fayette County Fairground.

Each day several tons of scrap metal and some rubber is added to the collection and this will continue as the work progresses in the county.

Many farmers have hauled their scrap metal to local salvage yards, and many others are collecting every available pound and have it in readiness when the trucks, working under orders of the War Production Board, reach their respective farms.

It is apparent that a tremendous amount of scrap will be brought to light and go into the war effort, and farmers are being asked to turn over possible pound of metal over to help win the war.

Payment is made as the metal is collected, so that there can be no question about owners of scrap receiving their money for it.

The huge pile of scrap rubber collected in Fayette County during the recent drive, is now moving toward the reclaiming plants, along with the other rubber collected throughout the nation, at the rate of 4,000 tons a day, the War Production Board has announced.

Herbert L. Gutterson, chief of the general salvage committee of the WPB's Conservation Division, said scrap rubber piles still seen in some places would be moved as soon as possible.

The petroleum industry's war council reported the drive conducted between June 15 and July 10, brought 454,155 tons of scrap rubber into local filling stations.

All rubber collected, as well as all other rubber, Gutterson said, will be made available only for essential purposes.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

UN-AMERICAN ASININITY

We've heard a lot of comment over the fine of $500 of a bandleader by an eastern musician's union because he sang "The Star Spangled Banner" along with others at a Fourth of July gathering.

Perhaps what happened to Don Mario, the singing band leader, up in Providence R. I., is nothing to get steamed up about.

It may be right to say that this was just the arbitrary action of an ignorant labor union executive board, and is not symptomatic of anything general or important.

But when a bandmaster can be fined $500 for joining Fourth of July gatherings in singing "The Star Spangled Banner," while his country is fighting the most desperate war in all its history, perhaps it really is something worth fretting about because of the principle involved.

The issue is clearcut. The Providence Citizens Sunday Recreation committee sponsored three park entertainments on July 5, and paid union rates for professional bands to provide the music.

Mario, whose orchestra was playing at a night club, offered to give its services—as an added feature, not to displace the paid union musicians. The Providence local of the American Federation of Musicians refused permission, and suggested that Mario himself should slip out of town for the day rather than go to any of the affairs.

Instead, Mario accepted membership in the official party which consisted of the mayor, the actress Sylvia Sidney and four others.

When the paid union band played "The Star Spangled Banner," everybody began singing, Mario, standing between the mayor and Miss Sydney, joined in.

On August 10 he was notified "fraternally" of the $500 fine by the executive board, which held that by singing the national anthem he had made a personal appearance forbidden by his union.

Mario was ordered to pay the fine by September 5. Otherwise he can be suspended from union membership and deprived of the means of livelihood.

He can, of course, appeal. The international union is headed by James Caesar Petrillo, who has forbidden the making of musical records or transcriptions: who is facing federal anti-trust action; whose New York local forbade the soldier band of "This Is the Army" to play at the opening of a service men's social center.

In our old-fashioned, horse-and-buggy, ruggedly individualistic way we represent the situation in which a private organization can fine any man $500 for singing the national anthem in public or

Washington at a Glance

By Charles P. Stewart

WASHINGTON — A public identification system can be utilized oppressively by a government which has that end more or less in view and shapes its operation accordingly. Adoption of the plan in the United States is suggested as a wartime measure. Straw polls indicate an increasing public sentiment in its favor, no doubt mainly for the reason that the great majority of us ardently believe in the idea of spotting enemy agents and saboteurs as effectively as possible, and internment "for the duration."

Nevertheless there also is formidable objection to it, on the ground that it's a tyrannical sort of procedure—an institution that despotisms naturally are addicted to, but that free peoples just as naturally grow on.

Well, it's sure that oppressively run countries, like czarist Russia kept their populations strictly booked, and for no very commendable reasons.

It unquestionably is a handy method for a bad type of officialdom to persecute perfectly good citizens as well as to keep tab on their idea of disloyalists and ordinarily assorted criminals. The regulations' merits depend largely upon the fashion of their application by the folk in charge of them.

There is a distinction, though, between a compulsory and a merely voluntary public identification system.

The former certainly is open to a certain amount of abuse.

A Convenience

The latter is an out-and-out convenience.

I have had experience with the compulsory kind in several different old world countries. It never happened to catch me off base, but it always rather fretted me as an infringement on my personal rights, if only slightly so. I felt, indeed, that as a visiting alien, it behooved me to acquiesce gracefully in local rules. All the same I had my personal opinion that they and modern civilization could not prevail coincidentally.

But, as previously remarked, public identification can be a "service" to the identifyee. I do not believe the public has widely thought of that.

You do not have to register as a resident of the Argentine republic. Maybe you do not have to so register in any of the Latin-American republics, but I will speak for Argentina. Anyway, you did not have to when I hit the area in World War No. 1's days.

Yet you could register.

Having done so, you received what was known as a "Cedula de Identidad"—otherwise a "Ticket of Identity."

It governmentally guaranteed whom you were.

Suppose you were traveling around a bit, calling in at various Latin-American cities and occasionally wanting to get a check cashed at one of them. That ticket was conclusive at any bank teller's desk.

As I have said, you did not have to have it.

You wanted it, though.

It contained your photo and your signature and your thumbprint and all the dope concerning you—unmistakably.

To get one you called in at your home town's police department.

Having established your credentials—and they were darned particular as to that—you got your ticket.

But it took about two weeks to do it. There were a lot of formalities.

Still, you could expedite them.

If you sugared the right functionaries, they would hustle the thing along—up to 24 hours, perhaps.

I don't argue that this acceleration was justifiable, but it indicated that it was what the applicants wanted. And so did the public.

The nub is—

Identification does not signify much if you have the price.

I have a little "Cedula de Identidad," left over from the last World War, to prove what I am talking about. It clears me, in the area, up to date.

I won't use it, naturally, but it's good.

Preventing Contagious Diseases in Childhood

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

YOUR CHILD can be protected by immunization against the following diseases and should be vaccinated at the age indicated: Whooping Cough—6 months. Smallpox—9 months. Diphtheria—12 months, with

This is a right up-to-date list published in 1941 by Dr. John A. Kolmer, Professor of Medicine at Temple University, Philadelphia. In short, it is conservative, authoritative and squares with the latest knowledge.

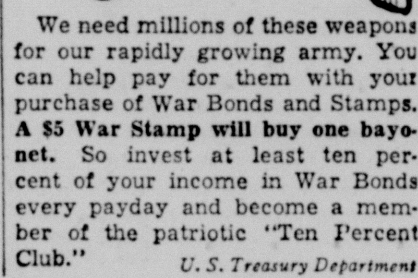

In the article yesterday, I said that the greatest danger of infancy and childhood was the series of contagious each individual must pass through. This danger is greatly increased as soon as the child enters school because there so many new human contacts are made, carriers of germs from other households. Against many of these, some of the worst, medical science can furnish immunity by vaccination. It is the greatest boon medical science has to offer humanity.

Let us review the list.

Whooping Cough Most Dangerous

Whooping cough is today the greatest baby-killer on earth. This honor used to be reserved for diphtheria, but since the universal vaccination against diphtheria in children of preschool and school age began about 20 years ago, diphtheria is a rare disease.

Scarlet fever has become so mild, for some reason nobody understands, that the death rate in the whole population is today 1 to 100 of what it was 50 years ago. This is not due to wide vaccination against scarlet fever, but seems to be a natural example of

by MARIE BLIZARD

SYNOPSIS

BARBARA WISTER, former actress, finds herself a widow at 27, when her husband dies. Her only friend in the small town of South Wintridge, where she lives, is Dr. TONY BRADSHAW, a young physician. Owner of the town's only business is TOM KILCRAN, whose daughter, PAMELA, and wife, CLAIRE, are haughty, cold and selfish.

YESTERDAY: Pam complains to her father about the lack of eligible men around South Wintridge.

CHAPTER TWELVE

TOM KILCRAN ran his fingers through his thick hair and looked extremely worried. "You know, Pamela, there are lots of girls and boys here who have a good time. Maybe we could cook up . . ."

"Look, sweetie," she said affectionately, "you're not to worry about anything, mostly me. I'll find plenty to do. Only I'm used to playgrounds and lots of people around and I sort of miss them. That's Claire's fault, I guess. She does provide an exciting background."

"You mustn't blame your mother. She was meant for good times. She never should have married a plain businessman like me. I often blame myself. . . ."

Half-angrily, his daughter retorted, "Don't talk nonsense, Father. The trouble with you two is that you never get together, really. You should have put your foot down and stopped her. . . . But you didn't, so if she . . . if I . . . or we . . . ever do anything you don't understand or feel like forgiving, I hope you'll be lenient."

Tom felt that his daughter was trying to convey something that her words did not. He said, "What do you mean, Pamela?"

She flicked a lighter on, held it to the tip of her cigaret and dismissed his question with a shrug. "You haven't told me who the young man in the thunder-cloud was?"

"Bradshaw. Dr. Bradshaw."

Pamela put down the lighter and forgot her cigaret. "Tony Bradshaw? The one who used to play football?"

"That's the one. Know him?"

"I never met him. I was in pines when he was the high school hero. . . . And to think that when I finally meet him all he has to say is 'sorry'. What was the rumpus about? I could hear your voices as I came up the stairs."

"He thinks I ought to build a hospital for the town, that's all. Anything you'd like today, like a million dollars?"

"Why don't you?" she asked coolly, ignoring his sarcasm. "If he wants one, I'm sure we ought to have one. We could have it named after us."

"A hundred and fifty thousand dollars to have KILCRAN choose!"

"I'm warning you to keep out of it. You leave him alone. He's got a lot of work to do. He's no playboy."

"You never can tell. . . . Lunch?"

"If you can wait half an hour, you can drive me home to lunch."

Pamela went around the desk and kissed him. "I'll run along to the post-office and pick you up at one."

"If it's stamps you want . . ."

She shook her head and hurried out before he had a chance to ask her any further questions. She had very private business at the post-office, of which she didn't want her family to be aware.

She hoped the clerk would not be a stranger. He wasn't. She said, "Mr. Hunneker, I want to rent a box. If any mail comes for a Miss Betty Brown, will you keep it there for me and not send it up to the house? . . . You see . . . er . . . Miss Brown used to be a maid for us . . . and . . . well, I'll take care of her mail."

"Betty Brown, you say? . . . Seems like there's a couple of letters in the general delivery for her right now."

He brought her three letters with Mexican postmarks and boldly scrawled addresses on the thin paper envelopes. She looked at them hastily and thrust them into her pocketbook and turned away from the window to hear Hunneker say, "Morning, Miss Bradshaw."

Bradshaw. Pamela stole a glance at the woman who had come in, remembering that Tony Bradshaw lived with a maiden aunt. She stole another glance at the middle-aged figure in uncompromising black and decided that she certainly was someone's maiden aunt. Then, as if suddenly remembering, recognition came into her face and she turned, smiling sweetly and held out her hand, saying, "How do you do," Miss Bradshaw. Don't you remember me? I'm Pamela Kilcran."

Miss Bradshaw took her hand awkwardly, unaccustomed to formal gesture at informal moments, and said primly, "How do you do."

Pamela ignored the unenthusiastic beginning. "I just bumped into your nephew leaving Father's office. I guess he didn't remember me."

"Didn't know he knew you," Adelle Bradshaw said.

"I know he didn't remember me. . . . Father's been telling me wonderful things about him."

"Has he? Miss Bradshaw asked in a tone that showed neither pleasure or surprise.

Pamela nodded. "Yes. He says he's a very ambitious young man."

"He's doing very well."

"I'm sure he is! I'd love to hear about it. . . . Does he play bridge?"

"Guess he does, but he don't have much time for parties."

Pamela gave her an understanding, woman-to-woman smile. "All work and no play is bad for a young man, isn't it? It would be nice if he could come to Stormwald some evening to dinner and a little bridge. Will you tell him? I'd like to renew an old acquaintance."

Miss Adelle said, "I'll tell him," in tones that indicated she expected nothing would come of it.

"It's nice to see you again. . . . Well, goodbye. Tell Tony to ring me up. Any evening will be all right."

She debated offering her hand again, decided against it and went off.

Miss Adelle looked after her departing figure with a wintry glance that plainly expressed her disapproval of the girl's boldness. The meeting had driven her errand out of her mind and trying to recall it, she remembered that her nephew was waiting to drive her home.

There was a door marked IN and a door marked OUT in front of her. The OUT door hadn't worked since she could remember. Now as she pulled the other toward her, Barbara Wister stood before her on the steps.

They said good morning to each other briefly and then impulsively the younger woman said, "Miss Bradshaw. . . . You're just the person I wanted to meet. I wonder if you would give me some advice?"

"I will if I can," Miss Bradshaw answered, not ungraciously, noting that, unlike the Kilcran girl, Mrs. Wister did not have painted fingernails.

"I'm going to open a circulating library and I want to send out post-cards to announce it. I wonder if you could tell me where I could get a list of townspeople who would like to know about it."

"Miss Davidson would know better. She writes the personals for the Clarion."

"Thank you."

"Don't thank me. Haven't done anything. . . . How's your little boy?"

Barbara's face lighted instantly. "Oh, he's splendid, thank you. He's such a healthy little boy."

"Glad to hear it," Adelle said briefly and nodded abruptly, terminating the exchange.

MILLER AND McSWEENEY PATCH UP DIFFICULTIES

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20—(P)—

All pre-primary differences between democratic chairman Ray T. Miller of Cuyahoga County and John McSweeney, democratic nominee for governor, were patched up today.

Miller's organization supported Walter F. Heer of Columbus for the gubernatorial nomination in the August 11 primary.

Last night McSweeney, who was nominated over State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson by the heavy vote he polled in Cuyahoga County, received warm praise from Miller.

Beautiful Party Given Wednesday By Miss Fedigan

One of the loveliest summer parties feted the members of the younger social set was given Wednesday evening by Miss Dorothy Fedigan, when she entertained with a dessert-bridge party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fedigan.

It was a nautical, party, for which complete and most elaborate plans had been made by the very pretty young hostess and which were cleverly featured.

The three small tables used for the dessert course, were covered with elegant white linen cloths and centered with exceptionally exquisite glass and chromium shells, holding red rosebuds, delphinium and gypsophalia, placed on small mirrors. The dessert course was exceptionally pretty in its Navy and patriotic theme with cherry sherberts and white frosted individual cakes, decorated with a large blue anchor, on lovely crystal ware.

For the bridge game, tallies made by the charming and talented hostess were greatly admired, with a background of blue, upon which a small red ship sailed with its white sails—a tiny anchor hung from each tally. The tables were marked by Crow's Nest, Star Board, and Upper Deck on Helmsmen Wheels. The players found their partners for the game, by matching the names of Ensign, Captain, Deckhands and other members that make up a ship's crew. Causing quite a lot of mirth and gaiety was the table bell, which was a fog horn, and another delightful feature was the serving of cool and refreshing punch during the evening with gay glasses decorated with cruizers.

After an exceptionally gay evening of bridge, Miss Fedigan providing most delightful pleasures, lovely awards were presented to Miss Helen Simons for high score and Mrs. Robert Hook for consolation. The prizes carried out the nautical theme in handsome anchor bookends and matchboxes bearing miniature ships. The guests included Miss Carolyn Craig, Miss Linda Paxson, Mrs. Hook, Miss Laura Schadel, Miss Jeanne Woodard, Miss Suzanne Willis, Miss Rosemary Cox, Miss Jean Langhoff, Mrs. Arnold Slack, Mrs. William Thompson and Miss Simons.

Afternoon Demonstration

Twenty ladies motored out to the lovely country home of Mrs. Colin C. Campbell, near Jeffersonville, Wednesday afternoon where an unusual and most interesting demonstration was given by Mrs. Burgess, of the Stanley Brush Company.

At the close of the afternoon, Mrs. Campbell served a very delicious collation, with informal visiting and chatting enjoyed until a late hour.

Double-Four Club

Mrs. W. H. Icenhower entertained the Double-Four bridge club Wednesday afternoon, and included one guest, Mrs. Glenn Speaks, with the members.

A mass of beautiful flowers were effectively arranged and admired in the living room.

Mrs. Frank Snyder received the high score award.

Supper-Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke, of the Lewis Road, entertained with a potluck supper and shower honoring Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Harold Reed.

After a bountiful supper the honor guests were presented many gifts which were arranged on a beautifully decorated table in the national colors, red, white and blue.

At Cedarhurst

Miss Carolyn Craig and two close friends, Miss Linda Paxson, Miss Dorothy Fedigan and Miss Jean Langhoff are at the Craig cottage at Cedarhurst for the remainder of the week.

Nancy Devins Is Pretty Hostess To Tandra Girls

Miss Nancy Devins was a pretty young hostess Wednesday, when she entertained the members of the Tandra Group of Campfire Girls at an extremely lovely breakfast party, inviting them to her home at nine o'clock.

Everything had been planned and provided to make it a gay and merry occasion, with the charming and sweet young hostess extending hospitalities in perfect manner.

The dining table and one small table were beautifully appointed for the delicious breakfast. Covered with exquisite lace cloths, they were centered with unusual and lovely arrangements. A large crystal globe filled with amaryllis and fern on a mirror base, centered the dining table, and the smaller table was centered similarly and most most effective. The meal consisted of particularly appetizing viands, appealing to young appetites, and the breakfast hour was filled with happy pleasures.

A short business session for the seventeen members followed, after which hearts and croquet were enjoyed.

Miss Sally Myers, of Dayton, was a guest.

Supper-Bridge Club Members Met Wednesday

Adding a delightful session to the summer calendar of their dinner-bridge club, Mr. and Mrs. Norman McLean opened their lovely home on Paint Street for a particularly pleasurable evening.

The delicious dinner was served from the dining room table, which was centered with a water-garden of a variety of early fall blooms. The guests found their places at small tables arranged in both the living room and dining room, and the hour was gaily enjoyed with the courses exceptionally delicious.

Bridge was played in the large living room, where numerous bowls and baskets of bright colored flowers were effectively arranged.

At the close of the evening, high score trophies were presented to Mrs. Eugene McLean and Mr. Floyd Mitchell. Low score favors were given to Mrs. Byron Tracey and Mr. Wilbur Mossbarger.

Leon Morris Resigns High School Position

With less than a month of the summer vacation left, the city school board today had another vacancy in the high school teaching staff to fill, it was disclosed at the office of the superintendent, A. B. Murray.

Leon Morris, who came here in the middle of the term a little more than two years ago to teach mathematics and assist the coaching of the junior high school basketball team, submitted his resignation to the superintendent with the explanation that he had decided to continue in defense work in Akron, where he has been working since the start of the summer vacation.

Supt. Murray said Morris' resignation, which was accepted immediately by the board, did not come altogether as a surprise because he had intimated that he was seriously considering going into war work or the armed service.

Supt. Murray gave no indication as to the board's plans for filling his position. Neither did he say whether the board had any applications under consideration.

757 MORE DOGS ARE LICENSED THAN YEAR AGO

Total Tagged in County is Now 2,637, Largest Number in Years

So far this year 757 more dogs have been licensed in Fayette County than during last year, which means that the dog warden, Loring Harrop's salary has more than been paid for by the increased amount of money derived from this source, and a snug sum left.

The records at the office of County Auditor Roy Baughn show that for 1942 to-date 2,637 dogs have been licensed, as compared with only 1,880 last year.

In addition to the large number licensed, Warden Harrop has disposed of scores of dogs found running without license, or that have been turned over to him by owners to be disposed of.

Indications are that the total amount derived from dog licensing this year will go toward meeting all expenses connected with the dog and kennel department.

Warden Harrop has devoted considerable time to the work, and now has a fairly accurate check on the canine population in the county.

For several years the number of dogs listed in the county has been far below the number licensed this year.

Emphasis Placed on Americanism in High School

LEGION ACTION IS ENDORSED BY OFFICIALS HERE

Proposal To Be Discussed With Delegates When They Return from Convention

Washington C. H. school authorities are "ready and more than willing" to place even more emphasis on Americanism, Superintendent A. B. Murray said Tuesday as he reviewed the courses now offered in the high school, including the seventh and eighth grades, in the light of a resolution calling for compulsory Americanism classes passed by the Ohio Department of the American Legion now holding its 24th annual convention in Canton.

Supt. Murray said he was looking forward to discussing the patriotic aspects of the school's educational program with the delegates from the Paul H. Hughey Post of the Legion when they return from the convention. He declared, however, that he felt the Washington C. H. High School already was doing a pretty good job of stressing Americanism from the senior class in the high school down through the primary grades in the elementary schools and added that patriotism was getting more and more emphasis.

W. F. Rettig, principal of the high school, went over the courses now being offered to give some idea of how pupils in the schools are being taught Americanism.

For the seniors, there is the course under the general heading of "Problems of American Democracy." This, he said, takes in the study of government, civics, sociology and economics, through all of which is carried the theme of citizenship, its responsibilities and its background. Miss Helen Hutson is the teacher.

For the juniors, Miss Hutson has a class in American history which impresses the pupils with their heritage and what it cost their forefathers. It is designed, he said, to give the pupils a better and deeper appreciation of what they have as Americans.

The world history taught the sophomores by Joseph Horst, Prin. Rettig said, gives the picture of America on a world background.

American history, taught by Miss Golda Baughn, lays the foundation for further and more comprehensive study by eighth grade pupils of what America is and how it came into being.

And, in the seventh grade social science and geography are combined and taught by George Miraben along lines to emphasize the place of America and Americans in the world from a geographic point of view.

The freshmen class is the only one in which Americanism is slighted but, it was explained, there "just is no place to crowd such a course in."

In addition to these particular Americanism - emphasizing courses, discussions on current events are held at least once each week in virtually all of the classes.

Then, too, there are the chapel programs, once a week or oftener, which have a distinctly patriotic tinge. They are always opened with the singing of the national anthem followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

R. B. Sharp and Herbert Wilson represented the Paul H. Hughey Post at the state Legion convention when the resolution calling on the General Assembly to require all high schools in the state to give courses in Americanism was passed.

Supt. Murray and Prin. Rettig said they did not know just what such a course would encompass that is not already covered in the classes already being taught here. But, they both said that, what ever the course is, high school officials here stood ready to include it in the curriculum.

Supt. Murray, in this connection, declared that the Legion post here has been "most cooperative" with the city schools and that the efforts of the veterans of the first World War were appreciated. Members of the post, he said, have always provided speakers for patriotic occasions in both city and county schools, and recalled that the post had presented copies of the Constitution and Declaration of Independence to the high school and flags to several of the elementary schools.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The Berlin radio is broadcasting these days that Walter Neusel, knocked out by Max Schmeling, Primo Carnera and Tommy Farr, will fight Adolf Heuser, champion although flattened by Neusel in '41, for the German heavyweight championship again September 6. . . . They fought a "hotly contested draw" in Hamburg a few weeks ago. . . . They might try matching the winner with that Jap brawler, "Piston" Horiguchi. . . . Of course, Piston is only a featherweight, but who likes an even match over there?

One-Minute Sports Page

George Halas of the Chicago Bears claims that Bill Geyer, the ex-Colgate flash, "looks better than George McAfee did his first year." . . . That Chicago scrap between middleweight champ to Zale and George Abrams may be declared off unless the navy releases Zale to start training in the next few days.

Today's Guest Star

George Herrick, San Diego (Calif.) Tribune-Sun: "All the beef about bean balls being thrown by numerous and sundry pitchers this year is correct. . . . Don't those pitchers know that baseballs are scarce articles these days, and when they come in contact with a batter's noggin, said horseshoe takes an awful scuffing?"

Baseball Brain-Teaser

The other night Manager Ducky Holmes of the Dayton (O.) Middle Atlantic League club raised a ruckus about the decisions the umpires in Canton were giving him. . . . Finally the umpire ordered Ducky out of the game and, when Holmes refused to leave, called a cop to escort him off the field. . . . There wasn't a policeman present, so the arbiter forfeited the game to Canton. . . . Now Ducky is protesting the forfeit on the grounds that the home club is required to provide police at the park and violated the rules by not having a cop there to toss him out. . . . How would you decide it?

Service Dept.

Billy Soose, former middleweight champ, reports that his next navy post will be in Alaska. He recently was transferred from the Norfolk station to Seattle. . . . P. S. The army boys figure that they'll stop the Washington Redskins, August 30—if they can stop Sammy Baugh. Mrs. Jean Shiley Reps, who captured the American women's Olympic track team in 1932, has applied for enlistment in the WAVES. . . . And why not? She has one brother in the coast artillery and another has signed up with the navy.

OHIO'S ENTRIES IN BIG LEAGUES BOTH COLLAPSE

Indians and Reds Hit
Skids So Suddenly

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

(By The Associated Press)
If Ohio baseball fans have any knack for solving puzzles, they might use their talent to find a reason for the sudden collapse of their two entries in the major leagues.

Not so many days ago the Cleveland Indians were runners-up in the American League and the Cincinnati Reds were skipping along in third place in the national loop.

But today the Indians and the Reds look as if they'll be extremely fortunate to finish in the first divisions.

Each team has lost nine of its last 11 games. The Reds have dropped into fourth place, only three games away from the second division. The Indians are clinging to third in the American League by four percentage points but will find themselves sharing that position if the St. Louis Browns win today.

The Pittsburgh Pirates handed the Reds their sixth setback in a row yesterday and beat Paul Derringer in the bargain, 9-2. The drubbing left the Reds 5 1-2 games behind the third-place New York Giants, who were idle.

The Detroit Tigers pasted the third straight loss on the Indians, 6-1, in a twilight game. Virgil Trucks pitched six-hit ball for the Tigers and had the help of a three-run homer by Rudy York which bounced Jim Bagby in the third inning, and another round-tripper by Ned Harris.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Philadelphia Athletics shut out the Washington Senators, 8-0, in a night game and the Boston Red Sox divided a doubleheader with the New York Yankees, Boston getting a 6-4 triumph in first game and New York a 2-1 decision in the second.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers crushed the Boston Braves, 11-1, but the St. Louis Cardinals stayed 6 1-2 games behind by walloping the Chicago Cubs, 5-1, in a night contest.

Mud Hens Beat Red Birds And AA Race Gets Tighter

(By The Associated Press)

The lot of being the first tender to show signs of faltering in the hot American Association pennant race apparently falls to Kansas City.

In first place a week ago, the Blues today were in fourth, a fraction of a percentage point below Toledo. They have won only two of their last eight starts.

Their woes continued last night when they lost a double header to Milwaukee, 1-0 and 7-1. It was the third straight setback at the hands of the Brewers, who advanced into second place, a game and a half behind pace setting Columbus, which lost to Toledo. Toledo nosed out Columbus, 3-2, scoring all of its runs in the sixth inning on three hits, a sacrifice and an error. It was the 15th victory for Archie McKain, Toledo southpaw. Harry Breechen, seeking his 18th triumph, drew his eighth loss of the season, instead.

At Indianapolis, Ray Poat had to go 13 innings before getting a 4 to 3 decision over Louisville. Rookie Rube Fischer stopped St. Paul with five hits to give Minneapolis an 8 to 1 triumph.

SEE-SAW GAME WON BY 2 RUNS BY METHODISTS

Legion Team Swamps Albers
Crew in Wednesday
Softball Program

In the first softball game Wednesday night the Methodists took a victory from the Church of Christ by a score of 11 to 7 in a see-saw tilt.

In the first inning, the Methodists scored one run and in the second the Christians scored two to take lead. However, in the second inning the Methodists scored two more runs to go in the lead again. Both teams got another run in the fifth inning but the Methodists still led by their one-run margin. In the sixth inning the Christians tied up the score again but in the Methodists' half they got two runs to make the score 9-7. In the seventh inning, the Methodists scored two more runs to make the final score of 11-7.

The hitters of the first game were Steed and Davis of the Church of Christ with one for one and Christian of the Methodists with three for four.

Legion Team Wins

In the second game of the evening the American Legion romped over the Albers crew by a score of 12 to 4. Albers never took the lead through the whole game. They got two runs in the first inning and one each in the third and fourth. The Legion scored four runs each in the first and second innings, scored one each in the fourth and fifth, and scored two in the sixth.

Leading hitters of the second game were Elies of the Legion with three for three, Reno of the Legion with two for two and Mallow and Curry of Albers with one for one.

One game will be played at Wilson Field Thursday night

Laymon and Wilkin Win Racing Stake In Races at Troy

Harold Laymon and his brown colt Wilkin came back into their own at Troy Wednesday by winning the second division of the stake for two-year-old pacers at the Miami County Fair races in straight heats of 2:11 and 2:14½.

But, there were not many of their home town backers from Washington C. H. there to cheer them at the finish as they did when they won the same way at the Fayette County Fair.

By virtue of the best time in the race, the other division of which was taken by East India with Loraine Abbe second, the Thoma Jewelry Co. trophy was awarded to the Washington C. H. pair.

The presentation was made by the daughter of the proprietor to Mrs. Laymon, who had been called to the judges' stand. Flush with excitement, all she could say in response to the crowd's clamor for "speech, speech" was "I'm not very good at that."

Mrs. Laymon, who has come to be as enthusiastic a race fan as there is in this horse loving community since her husband plunged headlong into indulgence of his hobby and achieved such quick and amazing success as a trainer and driver, declared after the race that "they didn't make a mistake." She smiled with recollections of the "breaks of luck," which horsemen are inclined to blame on inexperience of both horse and driver, that figured so disastrously in some of the earlier races.

It was the fifth race for both colt and owner-trainer-driver. And, in it they chalked up their sixth and seventh heat victories and the third time they carried off race honors. The debut in the sport of harness racing for both was at Marion and they won in straight heats. Then they repeated before a wildly cheering crowd of home town friends at the Fair here. Their first taste of defeat came the next week at Xenia when they lost one heat. At Wilmington the following week, they took their worst beating. But, from that they bounced back at Troy to win handily.

At Troy, Laymon and Wilkin again defeated May Newman, Milt Carpenter's filly that won the second division of the stake here and lost the trophy to Laymon on a flip of a coin. Keen rivalry was built up between the two and their meeting at Xenia drew the day's spotlight when they met. But, the Washington C. H. pair proved best there and again at Troy Wednesday, when May Newman, driven by Ernie Smith, of Washington C. H., could do no better than two fourths.

Clint Lighthill's Joe C. Abbe, that was one of the standouts at the races here, won the three-year-old pace at Troy in straight heats from Hustler, driven by Smith, which finished second in all three heats.

CARE will minimize the wear OF YOUR Electric WASHER

• Manufacturers of washing machines are busy making war materials. The day when you can purchase a new, better washer is indefinite. If you now have one—no matter what its age or condition—take good care of it. Here's how:

WRINGER ROLLS. Turn under buttons and buckles before running garments through, to avoid cutting the rubber. Wipe and dry thoroughly. Between washings, release pressure.

LOADING. Overloading strains motor and clothes. Keep down the load (average 5 to 8 pounds).

CORD. Don't connect the electric cord to the outlet with the machine in gear. After disconnecting, wipe the cord dry and hang on hooks provided. Keep from floor and moisture.

GRAIN MARKET

NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—(P)—Wheat and rye prices led a retreat in the grain market today that at times wiped out about half the sharp gains posted yesterday while the Allied raid on France was in progress.

A bearish effect on the market resulted from a failure of flour demand to expand, although some mill buying helped to rally prices at times, and a recommendation by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard that the price control law be amended to limit minimum agricultural price ceilings to parity rather than 110 percent of parity.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/4¢ lower compared with yesterday. Sept. 1.18 1/4-3/4, Dec. 1.21 1/4-3/4; corn 1/2-1/4¢ higher, Sept. 83 1/2¢, Dec. 86 1/2-3/4¢; oats 1/2-1/4¢ lower; soybeans unchanged to 1/4¢ off; rye 1/2-3/4¢ down.

doing it by flights instead of singly.

Hill said he got his FW-190 by "turning inside him."

"He came in diving. I turned and caught him with a four second burst," he said. "He spun down 2,000 feet, seemed to regain control for a moment then starting spinning again. I think I got the pilot but I couldn't wait around and see him crash."

The Americans with Hill and Dean flew in groups with Belgian and Canadian fliers and with two British units. The flight accounted for eight and a half planes destroyed, 10 probables and 30 damaged.

One of the best records of the day was turned in by a Polish squadron which destroyed nine German planes and probably three others.

The American and British pilots agreed that the Germans seldom joined in combat except when forced to fight. The Nazis, they said, concentrated on bombing and strafing ships in the Dippe harbor.

One glimpse of fighting on the ground was enough for both the British and American pilots.

"Boy, I wouldn't have been down there for a million dollars," said Lieut. Robert English of Van Wert, O., who had half the tail shot off his plane by a cannon shell. His ship rolled over twice and out of control in the air but English finally righted it and brought it home.

Lieut. Earl Reichert, 27, of Mansfield, O., said he never had much "to twist a plane around so much in my life."

"Those guys sure were playing rough down there," he added. "Stuff was exploding all over the place. Not for me."

CHURCHES MAY OBTAIN SUGAR FOR SUPPERS

Other Organizations Also To Share Increased Rationing

Fayette County church women need worry no longer about obtaining sufficient sugar when they serve meals in their churches, and various kinds of benevolent and welfare organizations also can obtain increased amounts of sugar under a new ruling just announced.

However no more than four meals per week may be served under the increased sugar rationing.

This announcement comes from Clifford Houser, regional rationing executive of Cleveland.

"These organizations could not get the necessary sugar directly as institutional users," Houser said. Outside groups which depended on this kind of periodic service, were forced to turn to restaurants and hotels which could get the sugar.

"Church groups in smaller communities are thus cut off from what they felt was a legitimate source of revenue, while no sugar was saved. We asked OPA in Washington some time ago for a ruling which would relieve them. Now we have it and these organizations can get sugar."

The new ruling reads as follows: "Previous interpretations that organizations cannot register as institutional users unless they serve four meals a week are rescinded.

"Civic, educational, charitable, benevolent, religious and social welfare organizations may obtain allotments if all requirements are satisfied. (1) meal service is to obtain revenue for organization; (2) organization serving meal is recognized in community as permanent, or where new, is expected to be permanent; (3) meal service is consistent with character and purpose of organization; (4) meal is open to non-members, and (5) sugar will be used in preparation and service of meal, which does not include preparation and service separately or in combination, of alcoholic or non-alcoholic beverages, candy, cookies, crackers, potato chips, popcorn, nuts, ices, prepared fountain mixes, milk, milk drinks and ice cream prepared as sodas, sundaes or otherwise."

Point 5, it was explained, that you cannot get sugar for a mere party where only one or a combination of the listed drinks and knickknacks is served and no regular meal is offered, although sugar can be used in the preparation of such drinks and desserts if they are served as part of a square meal.

The Fayette County Rationing Board will be prepared to instruct applicants how they may obtain sugar for the purpose intended.

THREE ARE HELD TO GRAND JURY FOR BURGLARY

Roy Allen Is Bound Over on Two Charges Filed in Justice Court

Roy Allen, his son, Wilbur, and Virginia Orihood, after a preliminary hearing in Justice W. W. DeWees' court, Wednesday afternoon, were held to the grand jury on charges of breaking and entering the Herbert Underwood home north of Washington C. H., and stealing certain wearing apparel.

Allen and his son were held under $1,000 bond each, and failing to furnish it, were sent back to the county jail.

The Orihood woman was also held to the grand jury but allowed to go on her own recognizance.

Roy Allen was also held to the grand jury with bond fixed at $100 on a charge of furnishing liquor to Francis Stolzenburg, a minor.

Roy Allen and the Orihood woman have been in custody before on charges.

SKYSCRAPER LUNCH HAS NEW OWNER

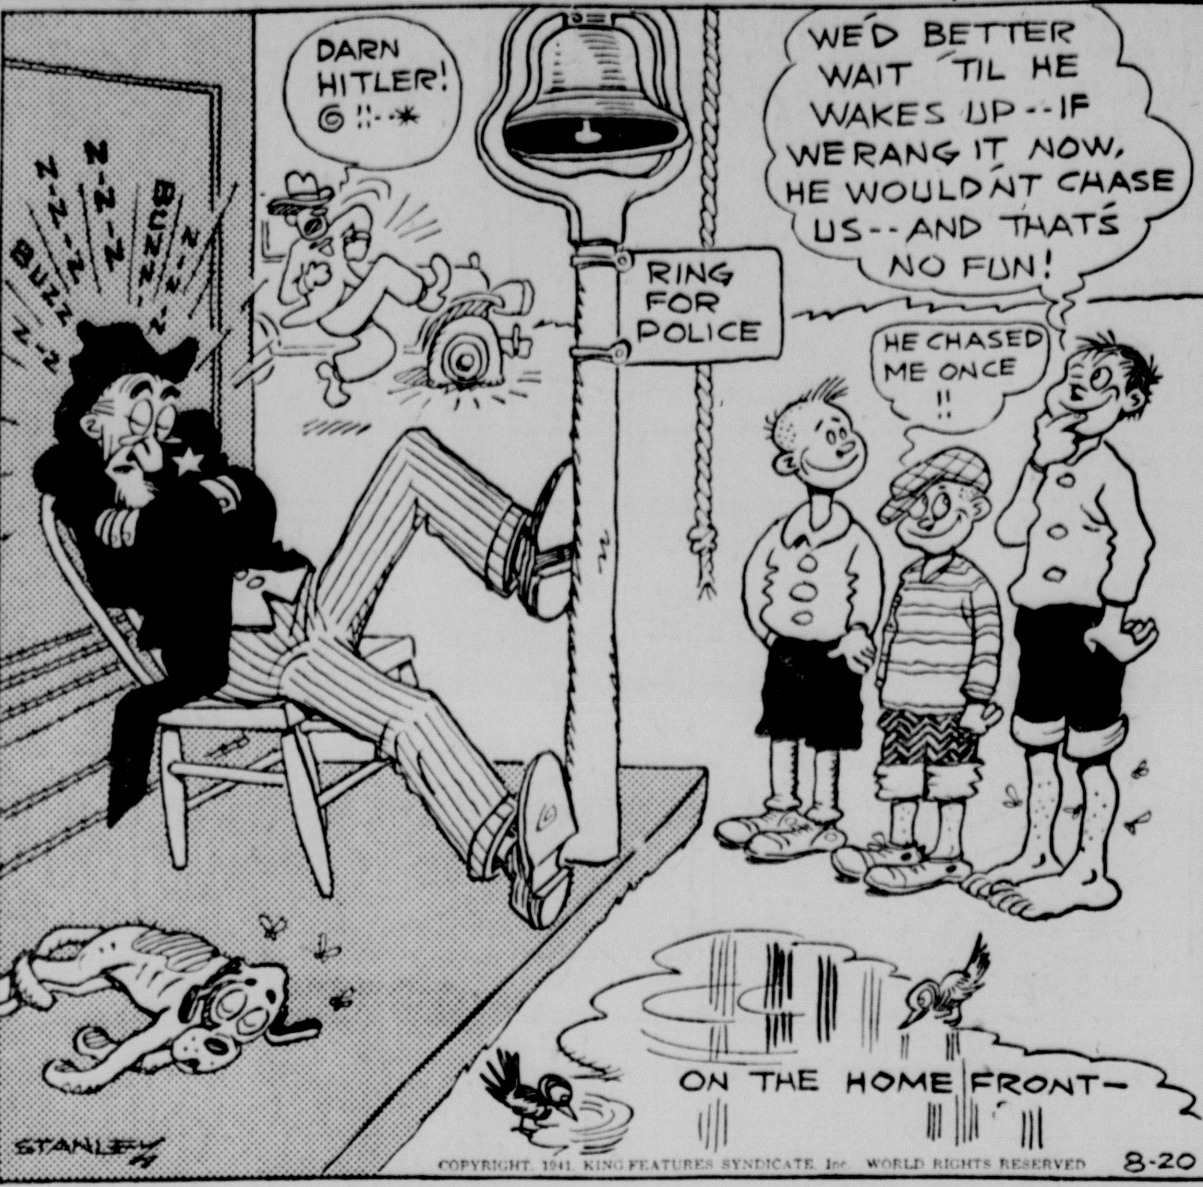

Tom Maddux Following in Footsteps of Brothers

Tom Maddux is following in the footsteps of two brothers who started in the restaurant business here years ago and kept at it. He has acquired from Mrs. Mildred Whittington the Skyscraper Lunch Room on West Court Street and is now in charge of his new business.

Restaurants are not altogether unfamiliar to Tom Maddux; for he has worked with both of his brothers at different times in the past. He often helped his brother, Dee Maddux, who died a short time ago, when he had the Washington Cafeteria and later the restaurant across Paint Street from the Union Station. He also has been behind the counter of his brother Arthur's restaurant on North Fayette Street.

Miss Patti Lahy and Carl Kneisly will be in the Skyscraper to assist the new proprietor.
